ENVELOPE USE

With quite a few active parishioners, use of collection envelopes is the only way we have of knowing your Mass attendance. If you are asked to be a sponsor for Baptism or Confirmation, you will need a Certificate of Eligibility signed by Father Loeper. These certificates require Father to attest that he has knowledge of your practice of your faith. So please use your envelopes! If a minimal contribution is a financial burden, please put the empty envelope in the collection basket. This indicates that you attended Mass that week. Please note, all envelopes are recorded according to when they were received, not according to the date on the envelope!

SACRAMENT OF THE SICK

You are encouraged to seek the Sacrament of the Sick if you are suffering from a serious illness or are going to be admitted to the hospital for surgery. Please contact Father Loeper or the Parish Office if you would like to be anointed.

Whether it's part of a printed piece or an electronic one, we all know the contrast offered by those "before and after" ads. Non-users of the product always look glum or dejected. But users? Ah, they look so happy and bright, smiling at us with the joy that the given product brought into their lives. As we ponder a purchase, we consider that we, too, deserve to be smiling and happy.

Today we are given a parable in the Gospel passage, namely the "Parable of the Two Sons." Granted, it's not as familiar to us as parables like the "Prodigal Son" or the "Good Samaritan," but it has its distinct teaching purpose. That is, the different reactions of two groups of people to the teaching of John the Baptist. Remember that John, Our Lord's cousin, had the task of preparing the world for Christ's coming through repentance. It reminded me of those reactions in "before and after" ads.

There is a non-smiling group, namely Israel's leaders, the Scribes and Pharisees, who simply do not accept what John is saying. Their faces are sad and their mood is cynical. The smiling group, on the other hand, is made up of those who accept what John is saying. They are happy hearing about a way out from under their sinful condition.

Raising the stakes quite a bit, we hear the ultra-important teaching of Our Lord Himself about all this. He proposes an outlook on our part that includes, first of all, the admission of our sins and then trust in Him. Do we believe in Jesus' approach? Or do we agree with the notion that, generally, I'm doing OK in the sin department and I have very little to repent?

Here I can imagine a cartoon depiction of a sad-faced sinner outside the confessional before going in. In the next scene, he or she is smiling and happy, exiting the confessional fully prepared for a halo. Saying this, I do not mean to cheapen what God does for our lives when we repent. My experience tells me that most sinful habits involve a kind of wrestling match between our resolve and temptation. Yet I, and we, must always remember that even the striving to improve means we want to love Jesus even more than we have. That's our ultimate relationship.

The Church asks us to pray this weekend for migrants and refugees. Normally an easy task. But today these people have become controversial. From our comfortable perches as approved good citizens, we must not look down on these brothers and sisters. Their anxious faces reflect uncertainty. The "before" look of fear. May our own outlook and our prayers for them bring to their faces the "after" look of acceptance, hope, and love. After all, that's what God gives all of us each day as we migrate, with hope and determination, to reach our common heavenly home. "Not all the teeth put into our laws are wisdom teeth."

THE FAITHFUL DISCIPLE

GROW AS A DISCIPLE | PRAY, STUDY, ENGAGE, SERVE

Ask any long-time educator, and they'll tell you we often learn more from our mistakes than from doing it perfectly from the start. Today's Gospel also seems to send the same message: Jesus tells us that tax collectors and prostitutes are entering the kingdom of God before the chief priests and elders. Perhaps this is because they – having lived a sinful life – know firsthand the emptiness of not following God's ways. Having gotten it wrong, they now earnestly seek what is right. The mystic Julian of Norwich writes, "First the fall, and then the recovery from the fall, and both are the mercy of God." Even in our wanderings, God is at work, drawing us to return to him. Ezekiel tells us that when we respond to that grace and turn from the wickedness we have committed, doing what is right and just, we will surely not die, but receive the gift of eternal life from the God who is Mercy itself.

GO EVANGELIZE

PRAYER, INVITATION, WITNESS, ACCOMPANIMENT

Speaking to the Christian community at Philippi, St. Paul reminds them to have "the same attitude that is also in Christ Jesus." The previous lines offer a glimpse of what that attitude entails: encouragement, love, compassion, mercy, unity, humility, regarding others as more important than ourselves. These attitudes should shape our way of relating to those whom we are trying to evangelize. Rather than judging them or thinking of ourselves as more important, we are called to serve them with humility, offering them our encouragement to seek the Lord who loves them so much that he gave his life for them.

REFLECT

Today's Gospel includes the story of a son who initially says no to his father's request but then changes his mind and does it. The Gospel ends with a line about how the chief priests and elders did not change their minds even when they saw tax collectors and prostitutes responding to John's call to repentance. Indeed, the Greek word for conversion is metanoia, which has been defined as "a change of mind that leads to a change in action." Take some time today to do an examination of conscience, asking the Holy Spirit to reveal areas of thinking that need conversion and change. What might the Holy Spirit want to change your mind about this day?

Father, Please Tell Us: What is the Difference Between the Altar and the Sanctuary?

THE ALTAR IS NOT THE SANCTUARY: HERE'S THE DIFFERENCE MOST CATHOLICS MISS!

Many people say "altar" when they mean "sanctuary," and "sanctuary" when they mean "altar." But these two are not the same.

The sanctuary is the entire sacred space at the front of the church where the altar, ambo (pulpit), priest's chair (presider's chair), and tabernacle are usually found.
It is usually elevated by steps and may be set apart by rails or clearly marked flooring.
This area is sacred, not everyone should walk into it. It is where the sacred liturgy is carried out.
It is not a stage. It is not for performance. It is holy ground.
Now, within that sanctuary, we find the altar, and this is the heart of the sanctuary.

The altar is not a table for decoration. It is the place of sacrifice.
It is where the Body and Blood of Christ is offered during the Holy Mass.
It represents both the Table of the Last Supper and the Cross of Calvary.
That's why it is kissed, incensed, and consecrated with sacred chrism oil when a church is dedicated.
That's why no one, not even the priest, leans on it casually. It is holy.

To put it simply:
The sanctuary is the sacred space where the table of sacrifice (altar) is situated. It is where Heaven meets Earth.

The altar is that table of sacrifice where ordinary bread and wine changes to the body and blood of our Lord Jesus Christ. It is a sacred place where Christ offers Himself for us again and again.
So the next time you say, "he went to the altar," ask yourself, did he go to the altar itself or to the sanctuary?
It's a small difference in words.
But in the eyes of God, and in the wisdom of the Church, these spaces have deep meaning.

Respect the altar.
Reverence the sanctuary.
Worship the God who makes them holy.
